Allegheny County Majorities.

We give the majorities in each Ward, Borough, Township and Precinct for Governor in 1860, and Auditor General in 1862. We hope our readers will cut out and preserve this table for reference about the time of the election, as we do not expect again to publish it. We are satisfied that next Tuesday the Union majority will exceed that of 1860 by at least 1,000 in the county. The State is safe, but patriotism demands that every man in the county does his duty.

A MISSISSIPPI rebel paper boasts that the stock of ammunition in the Confederacy is abundant, and that in any contingency it is deemed ample.

A Chicago paper says that Camp Douglas, near that city, is to be removed to Rock Island, where preparations are now being made to receive fifteen thousand prisoners.

Russian War Vessels.

NEW YORK, October 8.—A special from Cincinnati to the World says:

A correspondent reports Rosecrans' army as in a perfectly safe position. Reinforcements are constantly arriving from the West and elsewhere. The rebel cavalry cannot securely interfere with Rosecrans' supplies. A great battle must soon be fought. Confidence is felt as to the final issue.

A Tribune special from Washington says: it is believed in well-informed circles that ten or twelve more Russian vessels of war are expected to arrive at New York or some other American port within a few weeks. They are not likely to go away soon, but will probably winter in our harbors

Many theories as to the issue of this movement of the Russian fleet are afloat, but the general belief is that the Emperor intends to keep the fleet cruising during the winter months, lest some difficulty with his neighbors might arise and find him as they found him once before, bound up in his own harbors.

A Washington dispatch to the Herald states that the prize steamer Diamond, from Charleston bar, Saturday, brought a bearer of dispatches from Admiral Dahlgren with dispatches to the Secretary of War to the 3d inst. When the Diamond left, a number of the iron-clads were engaged with rebel batteries, and the batteries on Morris Island also appeared to be firing.

Deserters Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Intelligence from Martinsburg is to the effect that there are no rebels in the Shenandoah Valley, except a few guerrillas skulking in the mountains. Our cavalry have scoured the Valley as far as Strasburg and Front Royal, without finding any traces of rebels. Information has also been received that there is no movement on the part of the enemy's cavalry towards Western Virginia, as reported a few days since.

The Bureau of deserters picked up within the last two months 15,000, of the 88,000 who deserted from the Union army. Lieutenant Commander Debson, of the United States gunboat Seneca, reported to the Navy Department under date, Dobay Sound, September 24th, that on the night of the 22d ult he sent an armed boat crew up the Altamaha river, and destroyed the Hudson Place Salt Works, near Darien, Ga., entirely demolishing boilers, engines and works of Jas. H. Lockwood. The superintendent, his two children, a force of negroes and other employees and two visitors, fled at the approach of our force. The works are situated within two miles from the encampment of the rebels, and whose pickets came very near the works, but they did not discover or resist an attack.

One of the prisoners states that they have a report to the effect that we are raising 100,000 cavalrymen, and adds, if this is so the Confederacy is gone up.

NEW YORK, October 8.—The Times' special says:—Stuart, by increasing his force, expects to bring on a general, early engagement, and overwhelm our corps by mere force of numpers and secure his Lieut. General's commission. The strict conscription now being enforced throughout the South offers great facilities for Stuart to carry out his scheme, because those conscripted are permitted to select whatever branch of the service they prefer to enter, and it is well known that most men at the South give preference to cavalry.

Southern News.

CAIRO, Oct. 7.—Twenty-five paymasters with four and a-half millions of dollars, went South to-day, in the gunboat Springfield, in charge of Major Penna. One million goes to New Orleans in charge of Major Nichols.

The Memphis and Charleston railroad is now running to Corinth, and will be open to Decatur, Ala., in a few days.

It is reported that Dick Taylor has 15,000 rebels at Shreveport, La., watching one hundred thousand bales of cotton.

Gen. Grant moves around on crutches.

Reported Attack on Fort Scott.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—The Democrat's Leavenworth special says that there is much excitement there in consequence of reports of a rebel advance on Fort Scott and Kansas City. All the troops at Leavenworth were ordered below, and the State Militia will be called out. Fort Scott is believed to be strong enough to successfully resist any attack. Col. Blair commands Fort Scott. Gen. Blunt will march to Texas, unless his force is weakened by being ordered to Springfield or Little Rock.

Connecticut Election.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 8.—The Palladium, this morning, gives returns from one hundred townships, showing the Unionists carried 55, and opposition 45 towns. This embraces nearly all the towns in which elections were held.

FROM CAPE MAY,

Special Correspondence of the Daily Commercial.

CAPE MAY, Oct. 4, 1863.

HAVING spent most of the Summer season at "Cape Island," at the mouth of Delaware Bay; and believing it to be the most beautiful as well as the most commodious of all the watering places in the United States, or perhaps in the world, I propose to say a few words in regard to its peculiar advantages.

The beach at low tide is one of the most magnificent that can be imagined. It is from 300 to 400 feet broad, and five miles long, and the descent so gradual that it appears almost a perfect level. Perhaps the descent is 18 inches to the 100 feet; and this continues at the same rate as far into the sea as bathers ever go; making it perfectly safe for the most timid to venture in the surf as far as could be desired. With ordinary care there is not the least danger in bathing at Cape May.

This beach at low tide is a most lovely promenade, the walk being nearly as solid as the best McAdamised road. It also affords a beautiful drive for carriages, of which visiters do not neglect to avail themselves. During the warm season there are frequently not less than from 300 to 500 people enjoying a promenade or ride on the beach. At 11 o'clock a. m., which is the customary hour for bathing, there are frequently 1,500 to 2,000 in at once; which, with robes of all colors and descriptions, make a truly picturesque scene. The sea breeze, from mid-day till sunset, is very invigorating to seekers after health.

The accommodation for visitors is on an extensive scale; although there was some complaint this season, the number being much larger than ever before, reaching, I think, full 5,000. But by the exertion and enterprise of the hotel keepers, they were all made pretty comfortable. There is a large number of hotels, the principal of which are the Columbia, Congress Hall, United States, Centre House, Ocean House, and the Atlantic. There are several other respectable houses, among which are the Delaware, Washington, etc.

The Centre House, where the writer of this put up, though not the largest, is one of the best and most comfortable hotels in the place. The proprietor, J. E. Mecray, is a clever, good-hearted man, who always sees that his guests have plenty of good fare; and his lady is a most estimable woman, who only requires acquaintance to make her beloved. His clerk and general superintendent, Mr. Smith Hughes, is a general favorite with the boarders, and deservedly so, for he is as clever and obliging a fellow as you would wish to see; and, whether at the dining table or general superintendence through the house, does not fail to add to the comfort of the guests, wherever he is. I would advise new visiters to give the Centre House a trial. To those who have tried it this advice is unnecessary.

I might add that the railroad from Philadelphia to Cape May (which has been so long promised) is now complete, and makes the trip in about four hours. Those that prefer going by steamer on the beautiful Delaware, can be accommodated, as a fine steamboat generally leaves each day at 8 o'clock, and arrives at Cape May at 4 o'clock p. m. The steamer ran from the middle of June till the last of August, which generally ends the busy season. S.

WE are not fighting the Southern States, or any States. We are fighting the rebels. That's all.

THE Lexington Loyalist speaks favorably of the prospects of the tobacco crop in that section.

IT is announced that no more horses for the Government are to be purchased at Cincinnati.

ADAH ISAACS MENKEN draws in San Francisco. The theatre's receipts the first night were $1,630.

STEWART, the New York dry goods merchant, paid $245,000 as his income tax for last year.

THE Mobile News of the 28th ult., says MRS. Gen. JOHN MORGAN and her sister, Miss READY, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., have gone to Danville, Va., as a place of refuge.

Prenticiana.

Five millions of acres are devoted in France to the vine, and fifteen millions of men in the United States to the product of it.

Some of the Abolition Editors are so cramped in their views that we suspect they never write except when they have the cramp.

Some like their beef-steak rare, others well done. With the rebels, all sorts of meat on the table are rare.

The rebel Confederacy is preparing several iron-clads, but its guerrillas, who obtain all their clothes by pillage are stealclads.

Fourteen officers guilty of disgraceful conduct were dismissed from the service. The other thousand and one retain their places.

The rebel leaders may succeed in leaping over divers obstacles, in bounding over a great many difficulties, but they needn't hope to be able at last to jump the rope.

The Mobile Register doubts whether the rebels ought to make even exchanges of prisoners. No doubt the rebels are in sore need of something to boot.

The Richmond Whig boasts that the Confederacy is giving bed and board to a good many Union prisoners. It might add that their bed is all one.

Canada seems to be afraid of annexation to the United States. A poor and ugly girl might as well be afraid of being married to a rich, handsome, and worthy gentleman.

Jeff. Davis lately ordered Gen. Bragg not to shoot so many of his men. We wish somebody would order him not to shoot so many of ours.

Chicamauga means the river of death, and the right of that solemn stream to its name has been doubled. We pray that Kentucky's title to the name of the Dark and Bloody Ground may not be doubled too.

The effects of the Rebel Commodore Tatnall, at Watertown, N. Y., have been sold by auction.

Charles Putnam, great grandson of Israel Putnam, died a short time since, at Marietta, Ohio.

The Michigan State Fair realized over $10,000, a much larger sum than ever before.

The Provost Marshal of Cairo had the streets of that town cleaned by a set of captured gamblers a few days since.

A man offers to furnish saur kraut to the army. Another wishes to buy the privilege of picking up all the rags.

An immense deposit of silver-bearing lead has been discovered in Marquette county, Michigan, yielding 25 lbs of silver o the ton.

The Lindell Hotel at St. Louis approaches completion. It has a front of 272 feet and a depth of 227 feet, and it will accommodate 1,400 people.

England and France may recognize the rebel Confederacy as independent without making it so, just as you may recognize a person as a gentleman when he is a blackguard and can never be anything else.

The ladies of Carlisle have presented a splendid silver pitcher and beautiful painted photograph of himself, to Gen. William F. Smith, for his gallant defence of that place on July 1st last.

A pair of shoes has been made in Boston for a color sergeant at Fort Hamilton—a gigantic Norwegian. The size is No. 20; the heel is 16 inches, instep 12 inches, toes 11½ inches.

A disloyal Editor in Pennsylvania says that "the laws are now silent." Then there must be precious little law about him, for he is one of the noisest characters in the country.

A giant lady died at New Prospect, New Jersey, a week ago, weighing 700 lbs. She liked ham and eggs; a ham would last her two meals. She eat a good dinner, of which twenty-four ears of green corn formed a slight portion, shortly before her death.

The mutilated body of the Rev. Michael Olivetti was lately found in Lake Champlain, where he had evidently been thrown after being robbed and murdered. He was pastor of the Catholic Church at Port Henry, Essex county, New York. He was about to start for New York.

The New York Court of General Sessions is engaged in the trial of Dr. Brown, who is charged with the murder of a young woman named Anderson. The young woman, it will be remembered, had been for some weeks missing from her father's house, when, on the 19th of November, she was brought into the parlor by a hackman, and died, without speaking, in five minutes.

Our Penny Edition.

We have been long convinced that the large industrial classes in and around our city, would like to have a live, sprightly paper, containing the cream of the reading matter of the larger Dailies. So strong is our faith in this conviction, that we this afternoon commence the publication of such a sheet for the million. If our industrial readers will extend to us the patronage which such an enterprize demands, they may rely upon this cheap edition as a fixed fact in Pittsburgh journalism. Of course, to make such a paper pay, our readers must be numbered by the ten or twenty thousands. So strong, therefore, is our faith in the intelligence of the masses, that when others are abandoning penny papers, we intend to test the experiment in our Smoky City.

National Thanksgiving.

The President of the United States has issued his proclamation appointing the last Thursday of November next as a day of "Thanksgiving and Prayer to Almighty God" for the mercies vouchsafed to us as a nation during the present year. The proclamation is thus early issued that it may reach our Merchant and National vessels at sea, American residents in foreign lands, and that thus, from every truly patriotic heart, may go up at the same moment, thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God for our preservation amidst the mightiest Rebellion the world has ever seen. It is a good thing, says the Divine Psalmist, to give thanks unto the Lord—to praise the name of the Most High. Let one universal Te Deum arise from every American heart for all the temporal and spiritual mercies vouchsafed to us during the past year, and especially that the end of the great Rebellion is drawing nigh, and that the Stars and Stripes will, ere long, wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

If our currency is depreciated, that's no reason why we should join the rebels and have to take theirs as a substitute. A sensible gentleman would not, because his parlor is a little hot, wish to exchange it for the devil's.

THE explosion of the caisson in Louisville, on last Sabbath, killed but one man, GEORGE BARBOUR. The damage on Main street, in the breaking of widdow glass, sash, etc., will amount to not less than one thousand dollars.

SOME of our contemporaries seem surprised that PHIL HERBERT, who shot the Irish waiter at Washington, is elected to the rebel Congress. We don't know whether they think that PHIL isn't fit for the Congress, or that the Congress isn't fit for PHIL. We guess that "honors are easy."

CAPT. THOS. T. WRIGHT, of Jefferson County, Ind., has ten acres planted in cotton. As the result of his experiment in the production of the crop, he says the yield will not be less than three hundred pounds to the acre. The late frosts have not seriously affected the growing plants.

GEN. TRUSTEN POLK arrived at St. Louis on Saturday as a prisoner of war, and will be sent to Johnston's Island. His family, captured with him in Arkansas, were not allowed to accompany him to St. Louis, their old home. Gen. POLK was formerly Governor of Missouri and a United States Senator from that State.

IN the battles of the 19th and 20th of August, the 29th Indiana regiment lost 11 killed, 91 wounded, and 68 missing, a total of 170. The 31st Indiana lost 4 killed, 66 wounded; total 70. The 44th Indiana, 3 killed, 59 wounded, 20 missing; total 82. The 87th Indiana, 40 killed, 142 wounded, 8 missing; total 190. The loss of the 6th Indiana was 154.

IRON FORTS.—The British Government has resolved to build large forts of iron upon the shoals commanding the entrance to their chief naval arsenal. The difficulty is to get a foundation, but it is proposed to construct a number of portable iron Martello towers, to be raised upon shipways, which latter are capable of being removed from under the tower, which will by its own weight settle down and find a foundation for itself.

On Friday night, as we learn from the Cleveland Plaindealer, a number of rebel prisoners attempted to escape from the prison on Johnson's Island. They managed to get out of the quarters, and had partially cut a large hole through the outside wall, when the light of a lamp near which they were at work fortunately discovered them to a sentinel, who gave the arlarm. The long roll was beaten, and in ten minutes thereafter the entire force of the Island was under arms, and the prisoners were quickly captured and secured.

IT was generally the soldiers' wives in Mobile that got up the two female breadriots. Orders were given to the military to put them down with the bayonet. It must be hugely pleasant to the rebel soldiers fighting and starving in the field to hear that their wives and mothers and sisters and daughters at home are bayonetted into submission and silence, because, in their maddened longing for bread, they rush abroad through the streets clamoring for it and demanding it! Ah, we suppose the rebels find that there's nothing like cold steel to satisfy the raging hunger of female stomachs!

A SWORD TO GEN. THOMAS.—We learn that the Fourth Kentucky Infantry, Col. CROXTON, have determined to present to Gen. THOMAS a splendid sword, as a token of their appreciation of him as a man and an officer. The sword has already been forwarded to Tennessee. The scabbard is of solid silver, heavily plated with gold, and very richly ornamented. The General's initials are set in the hilt in diamonds. The following is the inscription upon the scabbard: "Presented to Major-General GEORGE H. THOMAS, by the enlisted men of the Fourth Kentucky Regular Volunteer Infantry;" and on the blade, which is of the finest steel, and perfectly tempered, is this inscription: "Mill Springs, Kentucky, January 19, 1862, the first victory won by the Union Army." No man is more worthy of such a mark of esteem than Gen. THOMAS.

Evening Penny Edition.

We will issue regularly an Evening Penny Edition of the DAILY COMMERCIAL. The first edition will appear at twelve o'clock, M, and others will follow as the news received from all quarters may require. We have made arrangements with resident correspondents—capable and reliable—at Washington City, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, who will telegraph "specials" daily in time to appear in the different editions. It is designed to make this a telegram edition, cheapening it so as to bring it within the means of every one. Although small in dimensions, it will contain really as much reading matter as is usually given in our two-cent cotemporaries, and its columns will be filled with short pithy articles—the cream of the news—from every quarter. It will be furnished to newsboys, and sold for—ONLY A CENT!

Judge Wilkins' Sarcasm.

The most terribly bitter philippic ever uttered against copperheadism in our city is the letter published yesterday in the Post, written by Judge WILKINS to the Democratic Committee. Nine-tenths of that letter is a withering criticism of the editorials that have daily filled the Post for three months past. The funniest thing of the whole is that the editor publishes this excoriation of himself without apparently knowing the point of the letter. Had the same letter been addressed to a Union Committee the Judge would have been denounced as a renegade.

The Results of Chicamauga.

The rebel press from Richmond to Mobile are bitter in their criticisms upon the failure of BRAGG to dislodge Rosecrans from Chattanooga. They all fully understand that if this commanding position is permitted to be held by the Union forces, that the original sinners in this great rebellion in the Cotton States are at the mercy of ROSECRANS. So, too, BURNSIDE'S position at Knoxville and Jonesboro threatens southwestern Virginia and western North Carolina.

Very few of our military critics at the North appear to understand the importance of these strategical points. JEFF. DAVIS, however, and his cabinet are fully awake to their importance, hence the flower of all the armies of the Confederacy were marshalled at Chicamauga.

Under the light of such surroundings must we estimate the heroic struggle in which Gen. THOMAS and his veteran troops for two days resisted the terrible assaults of the vastly superior forces of BRAGG, LONGSTREET and HOOD. The rebels themselves admit that all their attacks were baffled and defeated with a loss of 13 general officers, and from 12,000 to 30,000 of their rank and file placed hors du combat. All honor to ROSECRANS, THOMAS, NEGLEY and associates in arms—honor to the living, and green be the grass over the graves of the heroic dead!

Figures Won't Lie.

We have before us a calculation said to emanate from a Democratic betting club. This calculation elects WOODWARD by 950 in the State. In this, saving their candidate by the skin of his teeth, they only allow CURTIN 5,500 in this county and claims 2,000 for WOODWARD in Westmoreland, 2,500 in Greene, 600 in Washington 1,800 in Cambria, 1,200 in Fayette, &c. Now if this calculation gives any aid and comfort to the adherents of WOODWARD, we are satisfied. If within a circuit of fifty miles of this city, the bottom is not knocked out of it to the extent of at least 6,000 then we are no prophet. Ah, gentlemen, you may as well prepare for a far severer storm next Tuesday night than raged on last Wednesday. That served very well for an excuse to lazy copperheads to stay at home. But a frost, a bitter frost will come on them next Tuesday night that will render copperheadism torpid even beyond the dog days of 1864. We too have tried our hand at a calculation of the majorities in each county of the State, and make CURTIN safe by at least 18,000, and believe he will probably double that. The worst discouraging fact we have seen for months past is this copperhead calculation, which only claims to elect by 950 for WOODWARD.

No more truthful words were ever uttered than when the Wise Man declared "there was a time for war, a time for peace and a proper time to speak." How prophetic, and how applicable his admonitions to the people of this country. When our brethren of the Southern States, inflamed with foolish pride and mad ambition, forgetful of the sacred ties of consanguinity, and regardless of the manifold blessings of civil and religious liberties they had enjoyed, first applied the sword which was to sever the Gordian knot that held us together as one family,—the United States Government, to which we have all been taught to look for our political safety and prosperity, sensible of the wrong and evil about to be perpetrated, felt the time had come when war, terrible war, was essential for our salvation as a nation. It was inevitable, and war was proclaimed. It still goes on. The clang of arms and the tread of armed soldiers are yet heard on hill and dale. The time for peace, the propitious day, has not yet dawned upon us; but its hour and time may be easily comprehended. It will come when the last spark of vile treason is extinguished; when the last vestige of armed resistance to the supremacy of the Constitution and Laws of the United States is buried beneath the sod of the Southern clime, and when obedience to the constituted authorities is once more firmly re-established. But the time to speak, for Pennsylvanians, will be on Tuesday next, the thirteenth day of October. On that day, we expect every true patriot; every friend to constitutional law and order; and every one who reveres the sacred memory of GEORGE WASHINGTON and his compeers, the architects and defenders of this majestic Republic, to speak through the ballot-box, and in such thundering, withering strains, that WOODWARD, LOWRIE, and all such, who have dared to flaunt treason in public places, will be driven into obscurity, in helpless, hopeless brokenness of heart.

THE TRUE DEMOCRACY, or the War Democrats, as they are called, are rapidly enrolling themselves among the followers of the Union Flag. And day by day, as time rolls on, hundreds and hundreds are renouncing all connection with that pseudo Democracy, styled Copperheadism.

But there are many excellent men who fear they will be dishonored in publicly backing out from the wreck of their former party, and therfore hesitate in yielding to their inclinations. At the same time that they desire to espouse the cause of the Union party, they are deterred from doing so by the taunts that they expect to be showered upon them by their former political associates.

Now, one word ought to forever settle this matter. A war Democrat does not abjure his party by defending his country, or rallying in support of the men who are doing so. He still continues to be the best of Democrats—but has been abandoned by those miserable traitors who are giving comfort and aid to the rebels—and are in fact recreant to the noble principles of Jeffersonian and time-honored Democracy.

In fact, the true Democrats are in deadly hostility to the Copperheads,—the latter have left the former, and can no longer be recognized as having the least affinity with them.

THE great billiard match between SEERITEN and KAVANAUGH is to be played at New York on the 15th inst. The terms of play will be a carom game, $500 per side, 1,500 points up, on a four-pocket Phelan & Collander table.

Forbearance.

So incessantly and unwearyedly does the Copperhead press howl over the arbitrary acts of a tyrannical Government, that although we know that this outcry is raised in the interest of the rebel democracy of the South, and that their complaints are groundless, or their statements false, yet we are contented with this knowledge, and fail to give our Government credit for a Christian forbearance certainly without parallel in any country or in any age, the contemplation of which must gladden the hearts of philanthropists, and in after times will challenge the admiration of the historian and the wonder of posterity. That a strong Government, having the power legally intrusted to it by the love of a confiding people, to imprison, banish, hang or otherwise punish these malignant wretches who endeavor, by betraying our force and counsels to their armed friends; by decrying the currency; by basely appealing to the lower instincts of humanity; by false and fraudulent statements of our financial affairs, and by every other possible means, except the more manly part of taking arms, to destroy our country, to debase the broad Stripes and bright Stars in the galaxy of national ensigns, and to render the proud title of American citizen "a hissing and a scorn among the nations;" a by-word to designate one of those egregious asses who had attempted and failed in the chimera of self-government.

Yet our beneficent Government, bravely fronting and beating to earth the rebels in arms, and calmly awaiting the assaults of their foreign allies, feels too much the dignity of its position in the eyes of the world, or is too profoundly impressed with the grandeur of its cause to give heed to the yelping of these curs. Sure in the affections of the great-hearted people, it disregards their cowardly assaults and "pursues the even tenor of its way," rightly judging that the present contempt of honest men and the future execrations of posterity will suffice to point a moral through all time.

Neutrals.

In former papers we have established the position, that neutrality is more dangerous to the country, in its time of trial, than open hostility, and that the National Administration and all friendly to the unity and power of the Government, must necessarily desire, that activity, earnestness and fidelity to principle should animate the bosoms of our citizens in the contest now raging in Ohio and Pennsylvania. We shall now endeavor to show that the National Administration owes to its friends in Pennsylvania, a united and faithful effort on the part of all its employees, to secure the re-election of Gov. CURTIN and keep among the loyal masses, harmony of action and friendly relations.

In ordinary times we would not advocate the interference of officials of the National Government in our local political contests, but at present, when the country needs the support of every man, those of our fellow citizens holding place and consequently certified to, thereby, as having the confidence of government, cannot be excused from active interference in the cause that makes or destroys our nation. We have observed that a member of President LINCOLN'S cabinet has made an effort to divide, distract and dishearten the honest masses, by attempting to establish doctrines utterly at war with those that placed the administration, of which he forms a part, in power. Now, we allage that the President owes it to the people of Pennsylvania, who are using every manly effort to sustain it, without regard to men, labor or money, the removal at once of such councillors.

The times demand such decided and vigorous action as may assure the true men of the country, that after victory is achieved, it will not be fruitless of good results. The same policy in reference to every citizen holding place or position however humble or exalted, must be carried out, for if not, the same want of support to correct principles, of fidelity to Government and to the maintenance and progress of the Nation will be found lurking in our councils, that have heretofore marked the administration of our affairs, and brought us to the brink of ruin. If traitors, time servers and neutrals had been driven from places of trust and honor, when Mr. LINCOLN assumed office, the vast sacrifices of life and wealth might have been avoided. We have in Pennsylvania only two parties, the truly loyal, and lip-serving patriots, whose regard for party is greater than their regard for the country. If we are correct in our position, then the Administration owes to its friends in Pennsylvania the removal of any man, clique or faction that opposes the establishment of its own principles, or aids by non-action in the elevation to power of those inimical to its wishes and purposes for the safety of the Union and the Constitution. To this complexion it must come at last, and the sooner it does so, the better for the country.

OUR PURLIC DEBT.—The copperhead organs and speakers are making extravagant calculations about the proportion of debt thrown upon us in consequence of this mammoth war—a war, be it distinctly understood, not began by us, but initiated and prosecuted by the rebels, with the evident design of subjugating the whole Union.

We freemen of the North and elsewhere, as became us, resisted this gigantic onslaught; and will soon triumphantly end it in the complete overthrow of our furious foes, if there is more unanimity and hearty co-operation on the part of all the citizens of the Northern States.

This debt, so much complained of, and magnified in such vast and false proportions, is contracted in self-defense, and is one of the evils to which all peoples are exposed throughout the history of the world. Our silly complaints will not relieve us; but we will have to endure our burdens with fortitude. Indeed we have reason to thank GOD that the plagues of famine and pestilence have not been added to the dreadful scourge with which we are afflicted.

But these cavillers care nothing, in fact, about this matter, other than to make a little political capital out of it in the pending election.

They make a most important attempt to inculpate the National Adminisiration and all its supporters, as responsible for the debt.

Why not charge their rebel friends, with whom they sympathize, with being the authors of the war, and consequently of the debt contracted in its prosecution. If they only would do this, they would act in strict accordance with truth, and would make the amende honorable to their Union friends, whom they have so unjustly maligned.

If they are in right good earnest in their objection to a large National Debt, and wish to arrest any further large accummulation of it, let them show their sincerity by endeavoring to bring the war to as speedy a close as possible. And in order to effect so great an object let them cease carping at the Union men honestly engaged in fighting the rebels, and heartily unite with them in every wise expedient calculated to give it its death blow. When our copperhead friends so decide we can heartily co-operate in suppressing the rebellion and ending our debt.

THE United States Department of Agriculture will in a few days receive and have ready for distribution a quantity of superior Mediterranean wheat from Odessa.

CINCINNATI CORRESPONDENCE.

Ohio Elections---Geo. E. Pugh's Prediction---How they intend to do it---Scarcity of Coal in Cincinnati---News from Arkansas.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6th, 1863.

It would be difficult to say just now where the popular interest centers. Late advices, official and unofficial, from Rosecrans have relied public apprehension in that quarter, and as no startling intelligence is expected from Chattanooga for some days hence, unless Bragg is inclined to take the offensive, the people of Ohio are addressing themselves to the work before them, conscious that a battle, not so sanguinary but more important, is to be fought by them on Tuesday next. There is as much confidence felt among the Union men of their ability to whip the allies as was felt by Rosecrans' soldiers to whip the armies of the rebellion. But the home enemies may have adopted the tactics of the rebels, and made unexpected combinations and brought up reinforcements to outnumber us on the grand field day of October. Indeed, proof is accumulating that butternut allies from Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky are being quietly imported and distributed in wards and townships where "a few thousand of the same sort" are needed to carry the election. It is also said, and the statement is credited in quarters so intelligent as to give gravity to it, that it is the purpose in districts controlled by the Vallandighamers to open the ballot boxes at the close of the election, and abstract as many Brough votes as possible and substitute Vallandigham tickets. It is said that Geo. E. Pugh is confident of 25,000 majority for Vallandigham, and looks owlish and mysterious when questioned on the subject and asked to explain where they are to be got. The peace Democracy of this State are the legitimate children of Candlebox Calhoun, and there is nothing in their political morality to raise conscientious scruples, if a resort to such a scheme is decided necessary to carry the election. The end justifies the means, and the sacrifice of the purity of the ballot would be a small matter when you come to consider the supreme importance of securing our "lost liberties" before they are irremediably lost.

If such a scheme, however, is contemplated, I think the Broughites will frustrate it. To be warned is to be forearmed, and the polls will be watched more closely than for years past. With a reasonably fair election Brough's majority on the home vote will be not less than 25,000, and I think will go five or ten thousand better.

We quivered "summat" a day or two ago when we thought of the possibility that Burnside might be isolated from Rosecrans, by a column pushed between them like a wedge, via Cleveland—the weak point in the whole line of operations in Tennessee; but advices to-day are assuring, and go to show that Burnside has attended to the matter and has sent two of his most energetic cavalry officers with a strong mounted force to the point of danger. Wheeler's cavalry, however, did get through, and between Chattanooga and Bridgeport, as at first reported, but by way of Washington, and you have been advised of the extent of the damage they were able to inflict. Little more need be apprehended from them this time. The severe check they met near Murfreesboro, sent them on the back track, pursued closely by our boys, who will give them no rest this side of the Tennessee river.

We feel rather blue about our winter supply of fuel. Coal has taken another advance and is now selling at $14,00 per load, or scant ton; a fixture that places it beyond the reach of one eighteenth of the families in the city. Yet we manage to be jolly. Amusements never flourished better. Managers have raised their prices to the old rates of admission, fifty cents, and the Theatres are crowded nightly. Pike's Opera House is the attraction of the week, as Laura Keene and her combination company are there, but opening unfortunately in a true domestic drama, well enough for cultivated tastes, but not as highly flavored as the masses require. The "sensations" are in reserve. Koll Deucie is at Woods, and Koll is a very humbler piece of stage machinery. She is the worst Camille yet produced. Think of the Parisian dame dying of consumption at a round two hundred avoirdupois! It is enough to make one turn saint, and renounce the Theatre forever. But of this "anon, anon, sir."

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.

We are absolutely without news to-day, of a special character. The incessant rain, which commenced last night, continued till late today, and there is a prospect of an equally wet sequel. This has kept everybody, not compelled to turn out, in doors, and made the city dull and intolerable. We find compensation for it, however, in a prospective rise in the Ohio, if the storm extended as far north and east as Pittsburgh.

A gentleman just up from Memphis states that the guerrillas are once more becoming bold and dangerous in Western Tennessee. An expedition had gone in search of them, but had not returned when he left. Gen. Hurlbut had received marching orders, but had not left up to the 6th inst. A son of Gen. Sherman was lying very sick at the Gayoso House, and was not expected to recover.

The gentleman brought with him the first number of a new paper, "The Union," published at Little Rock, since its occupation by General Steele. Concluding one of his articles, the editor says:

"Why run prosperity from the presence of an army, whose tramp and artillery are heard in every State from Virginia to Texas, and whose banner floats triumphantly, and is immovably fixed over the soil wherever its heavy battalions are massed. National forces are not here to destroy property, lives, or to injure the country in any manner; but, on the contrary, to save and protect. Then, Arkansians, come up to the work of regeneration. Let us unite in establishing a state of affairs which will, under Providence, succeed. Come together from valleys and hills, mighty unto peace, and we assure you that prosperity will once more abound throughout the land.

The tone of the paper is judicious, and under its reasoning and the assurances of the Federal commander, a healthful Union sentiment has developed itself in the Capital of Arkansas. Trade will soon be opened with Little Rock. The Union advies countrymen to bring on their produce, and assures: "Reassure your brotherhood and they (the Unionists) will feed and clothe you even without money or price, as they have been and are doing in thousands of case."

It also publishes the proceedings of the first Union meeting held in the State since the war commenced, and says editorially:

"Men who are engaged in the enterprise are known to be of the right stripe, and we hail the movement as the forerunner of a glorious future, not far distant, when our State will once more take her position among the great States of America. The ball is in motion; who shall we hear from next? Come up like brave men. Your Northern brethern will co-operate with you in every endeavor possible for the restoration of your lost liberties."

It appears from this that 'liberties are sometimes lost in Dixie, though from the writings and caterwaulings of Northern copperheads, a stranger would suppose that the only quarter of the globe where liberties are lost is that portion of the United States in which "Lincoln and his minions administer the affairs of Government. The following is an abstract of the resolutions adopted at the Union meeting referred to, which has been, in substance at least, endorsed by several Union meetings since held in other sections of Arkansas. Imagine a copperhead convention adopting the third of this revolutionary series?

1st. That restriction and civil law is indispensible to the security of person and property; to this end, the re-establishment of the Federal authority is a necessity.

2d. That the experience of two years of anarchy and despotism upon the people of Arkansas will make them value the blessings lost, and teach them wisdom for the future and an increased love for the old established Government; that we earnestly desire the restoration of the Federal and State Government as soon as possible; and we pledge ourselves to make all honorable exertion to restore and maintain the supremacy of the Government of the United States.

3d. That the best means to accomplish this object is to exterminate rebel rule by force of arms and to issue writs of election to members of the Legislature at the earliest moment practicable.

All of us work together for good in Arkansas. "Daddy Price" has retired from the State, and beyond a few bushwhackers here and there, the State is completely under Federal control. Albert Pike, the renegade poet, is said to be heartily disgusted with the war, and ready to make terms, if thereby he can save his own precious neck.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

☞ STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—The stockholders of the Commercial Printing Company will hold a meeting on MONDAY EVENING, October 12, at 7½ o'clock, at the Office of the Company, 72 and 74 Fifth street, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization, and the selection of directors for the company to serve for the ensuing year.

A Mass Meeting will be held at Wilkins Hall to-night, when Governor Randall, of Wisconsin, a most eloquent orator and true patriot, will address the meeting. Turn out Union men in your strength.

Removal of the Barracks.—Workmen are now busily engaged in removing the barracks at Camp Howe, there not being any immediate use for them. We have no doubt this will be a gratifying fact for the people of Oakland.

Branch Completed.—The York and Wrightsville branch of the Northern Central Railway has been completed, and was opened for business on Monday. It will be remembered that some twenty-two bridges on this road had been destroyed by the rebels in June last.

Allegheny Wharf.—Wharf Master Allen is determined to prosecute every one who violates the ordinance against placing dirt on the Allegheny wharf. He has already commenced suits against some parties.

The Freeport Meeting yesterday is said to have been a large and enthusiastic affair. Ex-Governor Wm. F. Johnston and other able speakers addressed the meeting, and the proceedings throughout were very harmonious.

John M. Roberts, 16 Fifth street, has just returned from the Eastern cities with a very large and choice stock of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silverware and Fancy Goods, to which we desire to call the attention of our readers.

Pittsburghers in Philadelphia.—The following Pittsburghers were registered at Philadelphia hotels on Tuesday:—T. R. Hartley, Mrs. R. H. Hartley, Mrs. D. R. Galway, J. H. Shoenberger, G. T. McCormick, Miss Schenley, Mrs. Baily, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Birmingham, Mrs. Long, D. S. Macrum, L. Weiderhold, Daniel Bennett, and James Riter.

Railroad Suit.—The case of the City of Pittsburgh vs. the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, for encroaching on the Allegheny wharf, came up for a hearing before His Honor the Mayor to-day at 12 o'clock. Wharf master Allen appears as the prosecuting witness. In consequence of the absence of some parties necessary to carry on the suit, it was adjourned until Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

Lutheranism in Pennylsvania.—The following figures show the condition of the Lutheran Church in this State: Number of ministers, 121; congregations, 275; communicants, 50,543; infant baptisms, 7,826; adult baptisms, 227; confirmations, 3,394; parochial schools, 18; Sabbath schools, (Lutheran,) 84; Sabbath schools, (Union,) 200; scholars, 18,195; Synodical treasury, $283 52; Beneficiary Education, $782 53; Home and Foreign Missions, $30,067 01; Pastors, Widows and Orphans, $219 79.

Splendid Fruit.—There are on exhibition on Fifth street, two of the finest pears we have ever seen. They are of the Duchess d'Angouleme species, and are the product of a tree in the orchard of Randall Morton, Esq., whose residence is on Spring Hill. In the same window can also be seen an onion, fourteen and a half inches in circumference, and weighing one and a half pounds, which was raised on the farm of Mr. H. Bruce, Robinson township, Allegheny county. These products of the vegetable kingdoon are well worth seeing.

An Important Suggestion.—A movement is on foot in Cincinnati looking to the suspension of business in that city on election day. The idea is a most excellent one, and worthy of imitation here. We have never had an election in this State so all-important as that which is to come off on Tuesday next, as not only the destiny of Pennsylvania, but the life of the government, will, in a great measure, be determined by it. The citizen who will neglect to do his duty at the polls on this day as much deserves to be disgraced as the soldier who shrinks from his comrads in front on the day of battle. Let us have no straggling. Will our business men close on that day and give their services to their country?

The Inland Telegraph Company.—The Inland Telegraph Company, which obtained a charter at the last session of the Legislature, held its first annual election in Harrisburg on Tuesday. The following named gentlemen were elected officers: President, Thomas H. Willson, Harrisburg; Directors, David Fleming, Harrisburg, Josiah King, Pittsburgh, John A. Hiestand, Lancaster, John H. Graham, Theodore Adams and Philip G. Brenner, Philadelphia; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles Willson. We are informed that this new line is being pushed forward rapidly. It will be completed from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh and from Pittsburgh to Baltimore direct, within three months. The lines are being built in the most substantial and approved manner. They are to be extended West to the Mississippi early next season, and will be carried the following summer to the Pacific, making the longest main line in the country.

The Allegheny county delegation, numbering upwards of two thousand, left the Pennsylvania depot this morning in a special train of twenty-two cars, for Greensburg, for the double purpose of attending the grand Union Mass Convention to be held there to-day, and to escort the patriot soldier, Major General Franz Sigel to this city. Most of the members wore Union badges, inscribed "Allegheny County—Curtin and Agnew." The delegation had with them the County Union banner, and were accompanied by the Great Western band. They had also with them a battery of two guns, which fired salutes as they left the depot. The delegation was under the chief marshalship of Capt. Chas. W. Batchelor, assisted by a large number of experienced aids. As old Westmoreland is renowned for her hospitality, we have no doubt the delegation will be handsomely entertained.

—Maj. Gen. Sigel, who unexpectedly arrived during the night, accompanied the delegation, and was vociferously cheered on his arrival at the depot. Many of our distinguished citizens accompanied the General to Greensburg, and on his return he will be escorted to the hotel by a torch light procession.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Case.

In the United States Circuit Court, before Judges Grier and Cadwallader, the case of the Pennnsylvania Railroad Company against the collector and assessor of Internal Revenue was resumed on Tuesday. Counsel for the respondents made the following points:—1. That the Circuit Court of the United States has no jurisdiction of the case. 2. That the case was not one for the relief of a Court of Chancery. 3. That articles of commercial value made by the company for its own use or consumption are manufactures within the meaning of the law, and therefore liable to taxation. After the argument both judges stated that they were of the opinion that the tax was not assessable on the complainants, manufacturers; but in view of the objection to the jurisdiction of the court over the case in the form presented, the court reserved final judgment; and it was understood between counsel that the case would be put in the shape of a case stated, for the opinion of the court upon the question of law.

The Dead on the Gettysburg Battle Field.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battle field to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

All the dead will be disinterred and the remains placed in coffins and buried, and the graves of those marked or known will be carefully and permanently remarked in this Soldiers' Cemetery.

If it is the intention of the friends of any deceased soldier to take his remains home for burial, they will confer a favor by immediately making known to me that intention.

After the bodies are removed to this Cemetery, it will be very desirable not to disarrange the order of the graves by any removals.

DAVID WILLS,
Agent for A. G. Curtin, Gov. of Penna.
Gettysburg, Oct. 5, 1863.

The papers throughout all the States will confer a public favor by publishing the above.

Criminal Court Proceedings.

EMBEZZLEMENT.—James W. Craft, indicted for embezzlement, charged with appropriating certain funds obtained by him for sale of goods consigned to him, was found guilty. Defendant was remanded to jail, and a motion made for a new trial.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—George Linn plead guilty to an assault and battery on Nancy J. Lang, and was setenced to pay a fine of 6¼ cents and costs.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.—Catharine Hammill was acquitted of a charge of malicious mischief in cutting a clothes line, the property of Daniel O'Hare. She was, however, compelled to pay the costs.

ASSAULT.—Barbary Welt, charged with assault and battery, was next tried, but the case was not concluded when we left the Court. As usual, the matter was a neighborhood quarrel —this one about an oven.

THE RECEPTION OF GEN. SIGEL.

The People's Ovation to the Hero.

Great Outpouring of the People.

Since the memorable campaign of 1840, we don't remember to have ever seen the enthusiasm of the people so highly excited as it was last night, to witness and participate in the reception of Major General Franz Sigel, the hero of many a hard-fought battle-field. The committee of arrangements, under the lead of Capt. Caspar Gang, had exerted their utmost efforts in the short time allowed them to make the preparations for the reception of the distinguished general. At an early hour Fifth street, in the neighborhood of the Commercial office, which was illuminated, was crowded with an anxious, patriotic mass of people, and all the thoroughfares through which the procession passed were likewise thronged.

At the Depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, there were assembled not less than fifteen thousand people, who anxiously and expectantly awaited the arrival of the hero. On the arrival of the train, amid the salvos of artillery and the cheers of the multitude, Gen. Sigel was escorted from the cars to a handsome open barouche, accompanied by His Honor, Mayor Sawyer and Capt. Caspar Gang.

THE PROCESSION.

The line of procession was taken up by the Niagara Steam Fire Engine Company, which made an excellent display of men and their machines. Succeeding them came the handsome Steam Engine of the Hope Fire Company, of Allegheny, the members all bearing torches. They were followed by the Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, with their truck handsomely decorated, the members carrying torchlights. The Eagle company of our city also made an elegant display with their fine steamer, appropriately illuminated, as also did the Neptune boys, with their hose carriage. The Duquesne also made a fine display, and to those members of the fire department who laid aside their party prejudices to do honor to the hero, we are instructed to return the thanks of loyal men. Other companies, we are assured, would have been in the procession, but their apparatus was not in condition to make the display they desired.

Following the firemen came the carriages containing Gen. Sigel, Mayor Sawyer, Capt. Gang, and others, and in their rear was a large procession of our German fellow-citizens with torches. A vast multitude of people followed, and we are safe in declaring that at no time could there have been less than fifty thousand people in the streets. The entire route was one triumphant march, and our German fellow-citizens can have no regret at the reception extended their greatest representative on our battle-fields.

ORGANIZATION OF THE MEETING.

Previous to the arrival of the procession, the vast auditory in front of the hotel organized by selecting the officers, on motion of Hon. Jas. K. Moorhead, with those names subjoined:

The first speaker introduced was Hon. L. Sherwood of Texas, who made a most interesting speech. During his remarks he was interrupted by the grand procession, amid the huzzas of the people in which he had participated.

ARRIVAL AT THE MONONGAHELA HOUSE.

On the arrival of the procession at the Monongahela House, there could not have been less than twenty-five thousand people in the various avenues surrounding the building. Such a surging mass of people we have never before witnessed in our reportorial career, and the anxiety of the masses to hear the distinguished general was so great that all rushed for a position in front of the balcony. It seemed almost an impossibility to get the General's carriage through the dense mass that blocked up Smithfield Street, but by the exertions of Capt. Hardtmeyer, Major Vierheller, Capt. Siegrist, and other marshals, his carriage succeeded, after some five minutes delay, in reaching the entrance to the hotel. Here again, the crowd became so vast and enthusiastic, that Gen. Sigel could only be got into the hotel through the efforts of Mayor Sawyer, Captain Gang, and a number of boys wearing the blue blouse and buttons.

In front of the Monongahela House, on Smithfield, Mr. Crossan had erected a gas jet, forming the word "Union." The design was a really patriotic one, and received the plaudits of the thousands who had the opportunity of witnessing it.

GEN. SIGEL'S SPEECH.

When order had been somewhat restored, Hon. A. W. Loomis stepped forward and asked the audience to be patient and he would, in a few moments, introduce to them General Sigel. The announcement, on this announcement, again became uproarious, and without being permitted to take even a short rest, the General was ushered before the vast assemblage. In a clear, steady voice, and in language sufficiently plain to be understood by every one present, the distinguished speaker commenced his address by stating that he felt he was in the heart of the nation. He felt that he was really in the midst of the American people. (Cheers.) Such men as were before him must and will save the Union.

This war must be ended by strong arms and strong hearts, and not by leniency and weakness. He would like to have had present the men who have the fortunes of the nation in their hands, that they might see the people of the republic were behind them—that they might look in the faces before him, and take courage, and thereby adopt more courageous plans to put down the rebellion. The opponents of the government spoke about tyranny and too severe measures. For his part, the General believed the Government was too lenient. One good example would have saved thousands of lives. [A cry—"How are you Mr. Woodward?"] One traitor tried and shot would have saved many lives and the hopes of many families.

War, said the General, is not a plaything; it must be fought with energy, if it is to be successful. If the people would but support the government there was no necessity to resort to severe measures. The people should be prepared to bring all sacrifices towards the ending of this war. More energy was needed to put down the rebellion. It had already cost too much, but Uncle Sam had more greenbacks than they could carry on their shoulders, and could carry on this war for years to come. There were more men present than he could count. [A voice—If you had been here yesterday you could have counted some people.] The friends of the rebels talked of the damage done by the Union armies—of fences destroyed, and such little things. Why, Uncle Sam has so many trees that he could build a fence around the globe. He believed that if the right measures were taken, and the means and measures were not wasted, the people of the North would come out victorious, and crush down the rebellion. We do not like to draw a line between the North and South—not even a natural, nor geographical, nor political line. There can be only one nation—one republic in the United States of America. We have no room for a Southern republic or a Southern empire, because it would be a sham republic and a black empire. He was for adhering to the old lines of Uncle Sam. The lines we'll draw are the Gulf of Mexico, the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. These were the lines that would protect the people from a foreign foe.

He was not present as a politician, but this was a time for every man to show his face. He was in the ranks of his country, and would fight for it. Some had said, "I fight mit Sigel." [Great applause.] He would tell them that "to-night I fight mit you." [Continued applause.] In this political contest it was wrong to creep into a hole like a snake. When the life of the country is at stake, it was the right of every patriot to put down the enemy in the rear as well as front.

This State of Pennsylvania was a great plank in the Union. Would they take it away, and give it to Jeff. Davis, and thereby put an end to the Government? If the people wished to maintain their liberty and the Republic they must stick to their State—that they should be Union men and not for a foul peace.

Gen. Sigel then made some happy remarks relative to the peace question, but want of space compels us to omit them. He proceeded by stating that the great question before the people was, who should take the government of this State in his hands? [Vociferous cheers for "Curtin."] If they won, they must do so with the same courage that those who were fighting their battles were exhibiting. They couldn't trust those who say fight your enemies, and at the same time fight their government. Their old Governor, Curtin, had done his best to send soldiers to the front to meet the enemies. [Tremendous cheers for Curtin.[If he had his choice he knew what he would do on the 13th of October. If they desired to put down the war, they must take that instrument which had been most effective in the interests of the State, and that instrument was Governor Curtin. At the same time it was necessary for them to gain the State for future operations. We should be prepared to do our duty. It becomes us to save the country, not for the American people, but for the world. We had not the sympathies of the aristocrats of Europe—the Kings Queens and Emperors—but we had that of the people. The "American Republic the last hope of the people," must be preserved. We need not fear an European war, and if it did come, we had men enough to go over and take them in the rear. [A voice—"Sigel will be there."] General Sigel remarked that if he could be of use, he would take a trip over.

Gen. Sigel concluded his really admirable speech by exhorting the people to stand by their State, and vote for Curtin. If they gave it up to the enemy, it would be too late to consider afterwards. He hoped they would win the great battle before them, and called upon the thousands before him to remember them on the 13th of October they had to fight the second battle of Gettysburg. He trusted that by their votes on that day they would show the American people was not degraded, and appropriately referred to the spirit of 1776 as a guidance to patriots now. He concluded by saying that if the people of Pennsylvania need his services—"If alive, I will come and fight mit you."

The gallant officer concluded amidst the most deafening cheers, and here we would remark that we were compelled to cut down our notes of his speech, owing to the lateness of the hour at which the meeting adjourned. We have, however, given a fair and truthful outline of his remarks, which, we would state, were interpolated by the immense multitude present, by frequent shouts of applause. We have never witnessed such enthusiasm among our people, and we are pleased to know that their Union feelings were so enthusiastically expressed.

At the conclusion of Gen. Sigel's speech, Mr. Sherwood resumed his remarks, and made quite an effective and eloquent speech. He held the vast audience for a short time with a recital of what the Union men of Texas had endured, and counseled his auditors to support the Federal and State Government.

Governor Noble, of Wisconsin, was the last though, by no means, the least great speaker. The Governor is a most admirable orator, and his remarks were exceedingly eloquent and patriotic. It was with great reluctance that the Governor left the balcony, for the audience was unceasing in its demands for him to continue, so highly pleased were all with his remarks.

At the conclusion of Gov. Noble's remarks, the meeting adjourned, every body of the mind that in the memory of that ubiquitous individual, the "oldest inhabitant," we have never had such a demonstration in the good old city of Pittsburgh.

Grand Rally at Johnstown.

The loyal men of Allegheny county are cordially invited to attend a grand mass convention at Johnstown, on Saturday next, which will be addressed by Judge Sherwood, of Texas, Governor Randall, of Wisconsin, and other noble patriots. The Allegheny county club have had placed at their disposal some twenty cars, and the train will leave at eight o'clock precisely. In order to get on the train, those intending to join the delegation should be on hand at Wilkins Hall at half-past seven o'clock. We cannot too warmly advise our Union friends to attend the meeting, as the "frosty sons of thunder" will melt them out with kindness and patriotism.

Raid in Western Virginia.—Passengers who arrived in Wheeling on Wednesday evening, from Baltimore, state that the raid made by the guerrilla White, near Lewinsville, Fairfax county, on the night of the 1st instant, was a very daring and successful one. The attack was made upon Fort Beckwick, where there was a guard for the protection of one of the contraband farms, consisting of forty cavalry and seventeen infantry, under command of Lieut. Kayes, Sixteenth New York cavalry. White's forces killed two, wounded three and took twenty prisoners; also, fifty cavalry horses, with their equipments, and the arms of the men, and ten quartermaster's horses.

Straws.—The passengers on the train from Carlisle to Harrisburg on Wednesday took a vote on the Gubernatorial election, which resulted—Curtin, 72; Woodward, 20; majority for Curtin, 52. Good for "old mother Cumberland." She will largely help to swell the 50,000 majority for the "soldiers' friend." We learn from the Harrisburg Telegraph, on the Northern Central road on Wednesday, a vote was taken, which resulted—Curtin, 38; Woodward, 6. Woodward himself was on the train, but declined voting, being an interested party.

Plum Township.—A glorious gathering of Union men was held yesterday in Plum township, which was presided over by Doctor Schreiner, assisted by Thos. Armstrorg, James Martin, Wm. Shaw, C. Snively, H. B. Stotler, and William Stoner as Vice Presidents. The Secretaries were B. A Gates and Thomas Patterson. The meeting was addressed by Col. Thos. M. Bayne, Wm. H. Denniston and R. A. Cameron, Esqs. A series of patriotic resolutions were adopted, and the meeting adjourned with cheers for Curtin and the Union.

Robbery at Loretto.—The house of Mr. Philip Hertzog, in Loretto, was burglariously entered on Monday night, and robbed of the large sum of six hundred dollars. This sum had been accumulated by Mr. H. to bring to Pittsburgh with which to buy new goods for his store, on which errand he intended starting Tuesday morning.

New Remedy.—A remedy for diptheria has been found in France, by administering small pieces of ice to the patient. Dr. De Grand has been using this remedy for years without a single failure, it is said.

Pleasant Reunion.—A pleasant reunion took place at the residence of our well-known townsman, John M. Roberts, Esq., last evening, which was attended by a large number of the Local men of the First Ward. When the next gathering of a similar nature takes place, may we be there to see.

Sigel To-Night.—Major General Franz Sigel will address our German fellow-citizens to-night, at Concert Hall, in their own language. The Hall will be crowded, as a matter of course.

An Interesting Novel.—Gildenfenney, opposite the theater, sends us "The Shadow of Ashlydyat," a new novel by the favorite author, Mrs. Henry Wood. If it equals the lady's other productions, it will prove exceedingly interesting.

Police Matters.

COMMITTED.—David Phillips, the man mentioned in this morning's Commercial, as having brutally assaulted officer Murdock with a pair of iron knuckles, was committed to jail by his honor, the Mayor, in default of $300 bail.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Pat Gegin was this morning arrested on oath of Jas. Marion, charging him with having committed an unprovoked assault upon him. He was held to bail for further hearing on Saturday.

"Daily Commercial" Job Printing Office.—Orders for every style of Book and Job printing promptly and neatly executed, from a visiting card up to a mammoth poster. The most rapid and improved steam presses are used in the execution of the work.

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines, for family and manufacturing purposes, are the best in use. A. F. CHATTONY, General Agent, No. 18 Fifth street.

Type Metal for Sale.—About 600 pounds of type metal for sale at the office of the "Freedom's Friend and Courier," (German,) No. 72 and 74 Fifth street. oc7:3t

New York Cattle Market.

SECOND DAY.

THE CLOSE OF THE MARKET.

TUESDAY, October 6.—So far as the drovers could be, they are favored by beautiful autumn weather; this morning opening as clear and mild as yesterday. The great secret of their trouble is, they have overstocked the market, and if the supply continues as large through October as it has in all September and this week, we shall look for the same rates that cattle sold for last autumn. We therefore seriously advise farmers, particularly in this State and vicinity, who have first class bullocks, not to sell them if the market runs down, as it will surely come up again, enough to pay for keeping and a little extra feed. There will be a good market all the winter and spring for really good beeves. The loss of the corn crop at the West insures this. Some lots have been taken to-day at very low rates by farmers. One lot of 47 head, at $48, nice, smooth Ind. Steers, which will weigh alive, by our estimate, 12 cwt., or dress 6¾ cwt., will pay the buyer a fine profit whenever he may choose to return them to the sale pens. Several other lots sold to butchers at about the same rates, so that by selling at a heavy loss, drovers have been able to close out nearly all the stock left unsold yesterday, no fresh lots having been received. The close of the market is certainly a hard one for drovers.

THE SHEEP MARKET.

Receipts this week, 11,408.

The market opened Monday morning in Sixth street with a good supply of Sheep and Lambs, and there was an effort on the part of salesmen to get an advance upon rates current last Monday, equal to the advance upon pelts, but the buyers would not stand the demand. Pelts are worth upon contract, $1 50@1 87½ each, which is about 50 cents each more than they were last month, and with an equally good market the price of Sheep and Lambs would have advanced that much, but we do not find old Sheep selling at over 5½c ₱ lb, though we believe that some good lots have sold since last report at 6c ₱ lb five weight. The quality of those in market is rather better than heretofore, and the proportion of old Sheep to Lambs is greater. Lambs are selling generally at 8@8¼ each, and higher for extras. We noticed a lot of rather rough Canada Lambs, including a few Sheep, at $3 75, with five culls out. The price of mutton at the wholesale market on Saturday was very much depressed. Monday it was better, owing to the state of the weather, and sold at 6@7c ₱ lb. Lamb carcases at 7@10c ₱ lb.

The very large supply of Sheep and Lambs last week had filled up the slaughter pens, and threw an over-supply of meat upon the wholesale market on Saturday, so much so that no one could buy a sheep or lamb's carcass at almost any offer.

Beef, too, was equally depressed. We heard of sales of good, fair quality of beef and mutton at 3@6c ₱ lb.

And this was what's the matter on Monday morning in the Sheep market. The over-supply and warm weather of Saturday and Sunday caused a decline upon meat greater than the advance upon pelts, and made a dull opening in the Sheep market on Monday morning, which somewhat improved on Tuesday.

THE LEISURE HOUR.

A Rich Case of Snobbery—The Career of a Fast Young Man

The fashionable circles of this city are discussing the leading events in the history of E. P. J——, a young man who was recently one of their leading stars, but who, having shone with borrowed light, has been removed to a different sphere. As the owner of a fast yacht, he has created a sensation by the extravagance with which he lavished champagne and other luxuries upon those who were so fortunate as to be his guests on his excursions along the coast. He lived at Nahant in the style of a prince, and gave parties which astonished the nabobs of that aristocratic watering-place. He had succeeded in winning the heart of a young heiress, and had given parties in her honor, which spoke of the abundance af his love and—credit. In order to get an introduction into the more select of our fashionables, he last winter gave an extravagant party at Papanti's, paying $1,000 for $5 boquets, which were presented to every lady as she entered the hall, the name of the lady printed on each. His yachting parties in the Julia, which yacht cost $30,000, were the admiratian and envy of all the fast young men of the city. One hundred baskets of champagne were bought on credit for the summer supply for that boat. His credit was good everywhere, and State street began to look up to him as the coming man.

Young J—was very exclusive in his company. There was to be a sailing match a short time since, and the "Julia" was invited, but her snobbish owner would not consent unless he was furnished a list of all the gentlemen in the other yachts. Suddenly there came a collapse, and he went into chancery with debts amounting to $300,000, and not a dallar to pay with. He never had been worth anything, and had been living and trading on credit from the start. Sometimes he was fortunate in his speculations, but recent fluctuations in gold and linseed oil floored him, and finished what extravagance began. His yacht, which cost more than a thousand dollars a month to supply, has passed into the hands of his brother. His fast horses and his club-room friends are all gone, and only the interference of influential connections saves him from the reception of legal documents which would require his immediate presence at the Cambridge street jail. He owed Geo. Baty Blake $26,000; the firm of Lee, Crocker & Co. have suspended in consequence of transactions with him; and Naylor & Co. and Thayer & Brother are each about $10,000 out by his rascalities. A day or two before he failed he borrowed $3,000 of a firm on Devonshire street, and when asked what he had done with it, coolly replied that he knew he was going to fail, and he thought he would pay off some of his small yacht debts. This was done to give a clear bill of sale of the yacht. Never has a young man in Boston gone up faster than he did, during the past five years, and none have ever come down quicker.

Frightful Occurrence in Nevada.

The most frightful occurrence in many years took place at Austin, Nevada Territory, recently, and is thus related by the Territorial Enterprise:

Among the employees of Mr. Russell, the millman at Austin, was an emigrant named Cornell, a peaceful, quiet person, and very well liked by such as knew him. For the past three weeks he had shown symptoms of insanity, and, although these were not of a nature to excite much attention, it was deemed best to deal with him with caution. He went to bed on Saturday night last about eight o'clock, and about ten o'clock his tent mate followed his example. Fearful of exciting Cornell if he entered his tent abruptly, the man first awakened him, by calling him softly by name; he then drew aside the curtain and was in the act of stepping in, when Cornell struck him a blow with an axe, which cut his nose and forehead badly, and almost felled him to the ground. Recovering in a moment, however, he ran for his life, and Cornell after him; but the latter stumbled over a rope and fell, and the accident enabled his victim to escape. The madman ran down into the midst of the town, entered a crowded saloon, and began to lay about him with his axe, bestowing blows on any that came in his way.

The first cut a man's arm badly; the second severed another's hand from the wrist; the third inflicted a wound upon a bystander's head; also smashed the chandelier, shrouding the saloon in total darkness in a moment. The invisible scene that ensued was of the wildest description. The crowd broke with one impulse toward the door, making chaos of chairs, tables, and everything that was susceptible of being dismembered, and were met there by another crowd, attracted to the spot by the shrieks and shouts of the wounded, who appeared as anxious to get into the saloon as their brethren were to get out. Somebody in the saloon, in the hope of dispersing the new comers by the wholesome fear of fire-arms, discharged a pistol, which had the effect of increasing the panic at least. But, in the mean time, the crazy man had escaped.

As the news spread abroad, the citizens, by common consent, took shelter behind bolted doors, and awaited the coming of the destroyer with whatever of comfort the circumstances permitted. After a while a man came running from the direction of Clinton, with a ghastly wound in the side of his head, which had almost taken off one of his ears. He only begged for water, and was too much stunned to answer questions intelligently. When somewhat recovered, he said that, as he was coming from Clinton, a man came running up, struck him with an axe, and continued his flight without stopping. The man, whose name Mr. Frankenthal had forgotten, will probably recover. A posse of citizens, armed with revolvers, started at once in pursuit, but they were too late. Cornell had slaughtered three foot passengers already between Austin and Clinton.

Nothing more was seen of him till early next morning, when his body was found about half a mile beyond the village, with his throat cut from ear to ear—in fact, the head was half severed from the body, the windpipe was cut in two, the back of the head was crushed in, and about the heart were five stabs, either one of which was, perhaps, sufficient to cause death.

INCIDENT ON THE BATTLE-FIELD.—One day not long since, among the relics of the dreadful fight at Gettysburg, there was picked up by a soldier, and presented to a lady acquaintance, a small paper, which contained two separate locks of hair attached thereto directed to Mr. Wellerford, from Louisiana, by his wife, in beautiful handwriting. Below one lock was Fanny Wellerford, below the other Richard Wellerford, and below both "Our Darlings!" These tender mementoes of his home and children had been sent to cheer his heart in the far distant land to which the fortunes of war had brought him; and probably he wore the tender testimonials near his heart when the fatal missile of death separated him from those he loved in his far off Southern home. Strangers now possess the tender relic, and he rests beneath the clods of a Northern valley, his grave probably unmarked and undistinguished from hundreds around him who met their death on the bloody field of Gettysburg, and his wife and children look in vain for the return of the loved husband and father.

FORTUNATE DISCOVERY.—An English lady was recently walking through the streets of Sydney, Australia, when she discovered in a jeweller's window a necklace which she recognized as one stolen from her in England two years before. She entered the store, and seizing the necklace touched a secret spring, and beheld two curls belonging to her deceased children. She claimed the prize and the jeweler gave it up, asking as a favour that she would not mention it, but she did, and it led to the discovery that for many years the thieves of Paris and London have been in the habit of sending their stolen goods to Australia.

IMPORTANT TO
Railway Companies, Mill Owners, &c.

We have erected and have in operation near this city an extensive Labratory for the manufacture of

by a new and ingenuous scientific process—and now offer and commend to public notice and patronage three grades: A, B and C, respectively of 1st, 2d and 3d quality LUBRICATING OIL. Wherever these lubricators have been tested they have been pronounced greatly superior to any of the preparation lately offered in the market. The A, or best quality is designed to take the place of the best Sperm Oil, and for use on cotton, woolen or other fine machinery. The B, or second quality for Railways and other like machinery, and the C, or third quality for heavy and course gearing, &c.
The PAINT OIL has been tested by numerous painters in this city, and found to be a Capital Substitute for Boiled Flax-seed Oil.
Indeed, many painters give it a decided preference. These Oils are now extensively manufactured at our

EUREKA LUBRIC OIL WORKS,

As the process is scientific and uniform, customers can rely on the uniform excellence of these economic equivalents of Sperm and Flax-seed Oil. A trial and test is confidently invited. For sale at No. 31 MARKET street, corner of Second.

MEDICAL.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

HEAR THE WITNESSES.

WORTHLESS and pernicious articles are so often bolstered up in the advertising columns of the press by fabricated letters that the proprietors of

HOSTETTER'S BITTTERS

Rarely give quotations from their business correspondence, lest the GENUINE OPINIONS of those who use and appreciate a GENUINE ARTICLE, should be confounded by the unthinking with the FULSOME RIGMAROLE put into the mouths of MEN OF STRAW by unscrupulous empirics and charlatans, whose double object is to SELL both their trash and the PUBLIC.

Believing, however, that FACTS IMPORTANT TO THE HEALTH AND COMFORT OF THE PUBLIC, and which can be VERIFIED AT ANY MOMENT by addressing the parties who vouch for them, ought not to be hid under a bushel, the undersigned publish below a few communications of recent date, to which they invite the attention of the people, and at the same time ESPECIALLY REQUEST all readers who may feel interested in the subject to ADDRESS THE INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES, and ascertain the correctness of the particulars.

It may be thought, perhaps, that a preparation like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which has long been a STANDARD TONIC throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE, and is rapidly becoming a staple of trade at the antipopes, speaks for itself in stronger tones than private eulogium can speak for it. This is true; but the phases of disease are almost innumerable, and every day new instances of the success of the Bitters, either as a PREVENTIVE or a CURE, come to the knowledge of the proprietors through the mails. Some of these are of immediate interest to thousands placed in precisely the same circumstances as the parties who have been PROTECTED and RELIEVED, and therefore it seems almost an act of duty to put them on record.

The immense increase in the sale of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, both at home and abroad, during the past year proves that the world, whilst it obeys the Scriptural injunction to "try all things," only "HOLDS FAST to that which is GOOD." Spurious preparations, like poisonous fungi, are continually springing up, but their character is soon discovered, and they are "thrust like worthless weeds away." On the other hand, a great antidote that performs all it promises, and even more than its proprietors claimed for it on its introduction, is "not for a day, but for all time."

Every dose administered of a useless or deleterious nostrum helps to disabuse the public mind of the impressions it may have received from the flourish of trumpets with which the deceptious article was announced; while, on the contrary, every bottle sold of a purely valuable medicine secures the permanent custom of the purchaser, and makes him an ADVERTISER OF ITS MERITS among his friends. It is thus that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have obtained their unparalled popularity. The Press, indeed, has made the GREAT STOMACHIC widely known, but it is the uniformly successful results of PERSONAL EXPERIMENT that have rendered it a HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE through out the length and breadth of the land, and the main reliance of the TRAVELER, the VOYAGER, the MINER and the PIONEER.

During the Summer months, a pure, wholesome tonic, in which are also incorporated the properties of an anti-bilious and mild aperient agent, is especially needed. Such a preparation is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the surest preventative and cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, and nervous debility, ever placed within the reach of the community.

Against the depressing and sickening tendency of heat and malasma, it is a potent safeguard, and upon persons of feeble constitution and uncertain health, its renovating effects are most extraordinary.

READ REV W. B. LEE'S LETTER,
BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 2, 1863.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—I have used your Bitters during the last six weeks and feel it due to you and the public to express my hearty approval of their effect upon me. I never wrote a puff for any one, and I abhor everything that savors of quackery. But your Bitters are entirely removed from the level of the mere nostrums of the day, being parent alike to all, and exactly what they profess to be. They are not advertised to cure everything, but they are reccommended to assist nature in the alleviation and the ultimate healing of the most common infirmities of the body, and this they will accomplish. I had been unwell for two months, as is usual with me during the Spring. I was bilious, and suffering from indigestion and a general disease of the mucous membraue, and though compelled to keep at work in the discharge of my professional duties, was very weak, of a yellow complexion, had no appetite and was much of the time confined to my bed. When I had been taking your bitters a week my vigor returned, the sallow complexion was all gone, I relished my food, and now I enjoy the duties of mental application, which so recently were so very irksome and burdensome to me. When I used your bitters I felt a change every day. These are facts. All inference must be made by each individual for himself.

Yours respectfully,
W. B. LEE,
Pastor of Green avenue Presbyterian Church.

READ E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH'S LETTER.
PROSPECT COTTAGE,
GEORGETOWN, D. C., April 2, 1863.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—It gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to those of others in favor of your excellent preparation. Several years of residence on the banks of a Southern river, and of close application to literary work, had so thoroughly exhausted my nervous system and undermined my health, that I had become a martyr to dyspepsia, and nervous headaches recurring at short intervals, and defying all known remedies in the Materia Medica, I had come to the conclusion that nothing but a total change of residence and pursuits would restore my health, when a friend recommended Hostetter's Bitters. I procured a bottle as an experiment. It required but one bottle to convince me that I had found at last the right combination of remedies. The relief afforded me has been complete. It is now some years since I first tried Hostetter's bitters, and it is but just to say that I have found the preparation all that it claims to be. It is a standard family cordial with us; and even as a stimulant we like it better than anything else; but we use it in all nervous, bilious and dyspeptic cases from fever down to toothache. If what I have now said will lead any dyspeptic or nervous invalid to a sure remedy, I shall have done some good.

I remain, gentlemen, respectfully yours,
E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

READ JOHN W. BRONOUGH'S LETTER.
NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Yards and Docks, Dec. 30, 1862.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Gentlemen: About four years since, my attention was called to your celebrated Stomach Bitters, I being at the time a perfect martyr to dyspepsia in all of its terrific forms; indeed, I had not known for six years an uninterrupted night's sleep. I commenced the use of your Bitters, taking them according to your directions, except that the dose was reduced to one-half, and found myself much, very much benefitted by the first bottle; the second relieved me entirely; but I have ever since taken a dose in the morning, immediately on rising, finding it act as a tonic and appetizer of the most agreeable character. There is a peculiarity in the effect of your Bitters on me, which it may be well to state. If from any cause, I shall be suffering never so acutely with the headache, a dose of your Bitters relieves me in fifteen minutes. In conclusion, I say with all sincerity and truth, I would not be returned to the state of health in which your Bitters found me, and from which they have unquestionably relieved me, for all the money in the world.

I am, with great respect, your obd't servant,
JOHN W. BRONOUGH, Chief Clerk.

READ SAMUEL BYER'S LETTER.
NEW CONVALESCENT CAMP,
Near Alexander, Va., May 24, 1863.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Dear Sirs: Will you do me the favor to forward, by express, one-half dozen Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with bill, for which I will remit you on receipt of the same, as I am unable to procure your medicine here; and if I had a quantity, it could be sold readily, as it is known to be the best preparation in use for diseases having their origin with a diseased stomach. I have used and sold hundreds of preparations, but your Bitters are superior to anything of the kind I am cognizant with. Indeed, no soldier should be without it, should he be ever so robust and healthy: for it is not only a Restorative, but a Preventative, for almost all diseases a soldier is subject to. I have been afflicted with chronic indigestion, and no medicine has ever afforded me the relief yours has; and I trust you will lose no time in sending the Bitters ordered.

Yours respectfully,
SAMUEL BYERS, Hospt.

RENSSELAERVILLE, July 7, 1864.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—Please send me some of your Bitters at your earliest convenience, as I have at present an extensive sale for them. I have no medicine of which I sell as much as your Bitters. I have kept them for two years last past. They have now begun to sell. They have performed some remarkable cures in Dyspepsia, which have been of long standing, and from which they have acquired a reputation won by no other medicine in our market. I can send you certificates surpassing anything you ever published, if of any value to you, being anxious such a medicine should be introduced in every place. If persons were as well acquainted with it as I am, they would not be without it. Respectfully yours,

N. P. SWEET, Druggist,

MANUFACTURERS' AGENTS FOR
TRITTIN'S IMPROVED PORTABLE NO CHIMNEY BURNERS.

Patented Eighth Month August 19th, 1862, and March 31st, 1863.

THIS Lamp is offered to the public in great confidence that it is the best one of its kind now in the market.

It has been selected by the largest manufacturers of New York and New England, for manufacture, in preference to all others shown them, for its superiority of light,—facility of carrying about, and especially for its non-conducting principle, which renders it perfectly safe against the effects of heating.

It is simple in construction, and is afforded at very low prices. For a Kitchen and Chamber Lamp, for Workshops' and Vessels' use, it is economical and invaluable, and is rapidly superseding other lamps. The cheapness and almost universal use of Coal Oil, commends this lamp to all housekeepers.

Particular attention is called to its admirable adaptation to LANTERNS. A simple trial will show its great superiority in this respect over all other Burners.

Lamp dealers throughout the country will be able to supply the public with this useful Burner. oc3
